JOHN ADAMS HIGH SCHOOL, SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

May 21, 1941

DRAMA HI-LITES LAST WEEK

BASKETBALL TEAM HONORED

One of the best and most spirited assemblies ever held in the John Adams auditorium was that sponsored by the Adams' Hi-Y Club and attended by the student body on Wednesday morning, May 14. Bob Culp, Hi-Y member acting as master of ceremonies first introduced to the audience Jack Ledden, sports editor of the South Bend Tribune. Mr. Ledden, who delighted everyone with his sly humor, stated that our basketball team was better instructed in the fundamentals of the game than any other high school team in the Northern Indiana Conference. Mr. Forrest Wood, recent coach at Riley and now athletic director of South Bend, not only praised our basketball team, but went on to say that not only they but the entire student body must establish tradition which will carry our school onward. Mr. Rothermel, the assistant basketball coach, spoke of the team's past, present, and future. He predicts that, although the boys won only five games last winter, their spirit and willingness should enable them to take more than 50 per cent of their contests this year. Coach Primmer introduced George Gale, Adams' football coach for the duration of Bennie Sheridan's army service. Coach Gale said that John Adams was fortunate in winning not more than one-fourth of their games since it would be disastrous to start out with a pace too rapid to keep up. He expressed the hope that the football team would be able to live up to the record set by Primmer's lads.

Coach Primmer also expressed thanks for the service they had rendered toward the success of our basketball season to Mr. Weir and the Ushers Club, Mrs. Hetzel, Mr. Douglass, Mr. Simmons, Mr. Harris, Mr. VanArsdale, Mrs. Sheldon, Mr. Reber, Mr. Shearer, Mr. Yanetovitch and the band, Mr. Krider, Mr. Dake, Mr. Bumb, and the Hi-Y boys, the South Bend Tribune, the faculty, and the student body.

Coming as a climaxing surprise to everyone, was the presentation of sweaters to Bud Emrick, Ed Heitger, Joe Fragomeni, Hersh Walmesley, Bud Kalberer, "Slats" Ramer, and "Mouse" Muszer for their outstanding work with the basketball team. Mr. Primmer emphasized the fact that since the sweaters were being conferred as honors they must be honorably worn and any degradation would result in forfeiting them.

ADAMS WELCOMES NEW COACH

To assist with football at John Adams during the absence of Benny Sheridan, who was caught in the draft, the School City of South Bend has selected George Gale who will serve as a teacher of social studies and physical education on the John Adams faculty. Mr. Gale was hired as an assistant to Mr. Sheridan and will serve as the head coach until the latter's return.

Mr. Gale graduated from the Mishawaka High School in 1936, where he played football and basketball. In 1940 he graduated from Purdue with a Bachelor of Science degree. While at Purdue he won letters in varsity football and participated in several intramural sports. The new coach, who is married, has an excellent scholarship record at Purdue, not only in his subjects but in character, personal appearance, scholarship and health.

He was head of all athletics in the Rising Sun High School, of Rising Sun, Indiana. He is conducting three weeks of spring football practice here and is assisted by Forrest M. Wood, former Riley coach and present director of health and physical education in the city schools.

HELLO EMERSON

In return for the hospitality shown our representatives of the student representative group when they visited Emerson High School in Gary, several members of the Emerson Student Council have been invited to visit John Adams High School for a day during the school week of May 19-24. Ruth Ann Reed, Warren Gregory, Roger Buck, Jim Jester, Ruth Ruffner, Howard Durbin, and Dave Holmgren are members of a committee from the student representative group to provide for the program to be followed by the visitors.

I. S. C. A. CONFERENCE

Our Miss Knudson attended the Spring Conference of the Indiana Speech Correction Association last Saturday, May 10, in the Hotel Gary, Gary, Indiana. The program consisted of special problems in speech correction and also dealt with the new hearing program which will be instituted in this state this year. Miss Knudson is a member of the Executive Committee of the organization.

LONG AWAITED PROMENADE

At last comes the glamorous highlite of our social season . . . The Junior Prom. This gala event is to be held in our own Little Theatre, beautified by lovely furniture from our lounges. Pretty up your formals, gals, for May 23. Dancing will be in progress from 8:30 to 11:30, scintillated by the rhythm of Jimmy Durbin.

Kenny Follmer has announced his committees as the following:

Orchestra — Tom Matthews, chairman, with Rodger Buck, Jack Rice, and Connie Minzey. Faculty member — Miss Burns.

Tickets and Publicity — Rosemary Geiger, chairman, with Charles Heilman, Pat Hudson, Bob Gerard. Faculty member — Mr. Primmer.

Refreshments — Betty Thompson, chairman, assisted by Marilyn Vance, Christian Wenrich, Elaine Trahms. Faculty member — Mr. Krider.

Decorations — Bonnie McCullough, chairman, with helpers Betty Lou Singer, Mariam Los, June McDaniel, Betty Near, Shirley Niven, Irene Richards, Virginia Roys, Elaine Moran, Winifred Scope, Nadine Schrader, Bette Schwedler, Rita Schmitt, Anna Lazzara, Connie Minzey, Rosemary Rogers, Harold Patty, Dave Roberts, Bill Peck, and Jim Ramer. Faculty member — Miss Roell.

Invitation — Marilyn Beal, chairman, with Dorothy Bickel, Don Claeys. Faculty member — Mrs. McClure.

MATH CONTEST RESULTS

Reports sent out from the University of Indiana following the completion of the state-wide algebra and geometry contest revealed the fact that Arlen Brown, Adams' mathematician in the geometry section won fifth place and consequently received first honorable mention.

The Adams students participating in the sectional held several weeks ago at Notre Dame were Jules Sandock, Joan Gurian, Francis Green, and Arlen Brown. In the algebra division Jules was first with a score of 152 and Joan was fourth with a score of 130. In geometry Arlen won scored 357 was second, while Francis was 12th with a score of 235.

The mathematics teachers who taught these students are: Mrs. Green, Mr. Weddle, Mr. Weir, and Mr. Rothermel.

Do you enjoy a good one hour of entertainment? Then, on Monday, May 26, join the crowd at 3:00 p. m. in the Little Theatre. A matinee performance of the one-act play "Rich Man, Poor Man," will be given for the benefit of those who enjoy good comedy.

The cast of "Rich Man, Poor Man" is as follows:

Emma Jean Inglefield
Yetta Goldenstein Pat Kasdorf
Mrs. Bonelli Evelyn Sutlin
Mrs. Ole Oleson Joyce Roberts
Mrs. Pat Haggerty Mary Monahan
Mrs. T. MacPhairson Betty Ullery
Tommy Browning Robert Fox
Visiting nurse Jean Humrichouser
Largo Johnson Dominic Simeri
Mrs. X. Y. Smythe Norma Lambert

In charge of the Publicity is Alice Hoover. Chairman of properties is Betty Plummer, and costumes — Lois Downham.

The time is a zero day in January, the scene — a Thrift Shop. The story centers around Emma, a young socialite, who is running a Thrift Shop. Her fiance, Peter, unexpectedly returns from a trip and calls on her, asking her to marry him that night. She doesn't refuse but makes a wager that if every customer that comes in the shop that day buys something, she'll marry him. In order to help the wager Peter sacrifices many of his personal belongings, which leads to very amusing situations. The play is directed by Miss Knudson. Admission will be ten cents.

GAMMER GURTON'S NEEDLE

May nineteenth and twenty-first found the Little Theatre buzzing with the noise, laughter, and mumbling which usually precedes an assembly performance.

The audiences saw a play which was directed by Mrs. McClure, and was entitled "Gammer Gurton's Needle." This play was the first English comedy ever written and preserved. It was written for public schools at the end of the era for Miracle and Morality Plays.

The cast included: Lee Wilson as Diccon; Joyce Elmore, Gammer Gurton; Janet Wondries, Dame Chat; Tib, Bette Richards; Bette Ann Malcolm, Doll; Hodge, James Wendt; Jim Jester, Cock; Raymond Bowden, Doctor Rat; and Bailey-the-Magistrate was played by Don Brown. The prompters were Wilma Downs and Virginia Trueax.

This evening the play will be repeated as part of the program of "Ladies Night" given by Phi Delta Kappa.

WATCH YOUR STEP

How do you Walk?? DRIVE?? Are you aware of the fact that your life may rest on one step or one violation of the law? Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Automotive Safety Foundation, said at a recent safety meeting that most young people don't realize they can die. He feels that their inability to understand this matter has an important influence on their lives and especially in regard to safety. High school age students take many unnecessary chances in walking and driving.

The Safety Drivers League has been established to make people more motor conscious. This league has influenced many drivers as the statistics show. In South Bend, 20,000 members of the league committed only one-eighth of the traffic law violations while the other 24,000 committed the remaining seven-eighths. At present there is a contest being conducted between four Indiana cities to find the safest city. This is one of the many ways in which the league helps the public become more aware of its walking and driving.

In and around school we have many problems. The most important is the students running from school across Mishawaka Avenue to the "Huddle." The city engineer has not yet decided the official place to cross; however, this is not a reason to run across at any place without regard for traffic. High school students should know how to cross the street and use the rule of common sense.

IF I HAD A MILLION DOLLARS

By Margaret Buldic

If I had a million dollars
 Around the world I would fly;
 To the land of beautiful flowers
 And to the land of butterflies.

If I had a million dollars
 Or maybe a little more,
 I'd give it to the homeless,
 And bounty to the poor.

If I had a million dollars
 A hundred lives I'd save.
 To buy toys and candy
 Which many children crave.

My million dollars now is spent
 In which, with all my heart
 I lent
 But I forgot the important thing,
 My Rent!

STORY

Even as we read these words, through many of us there is thrilling the old, familiar anticipation of fast-approaching vacation — vacation from books, and all they imply. So we are thinking now — but soon we shall be in the midst of the hectic summer rush of swimming, hiking, dancing, tennis, golf, and fishing. Then it will be, some rainy day, or even some lazy, languorous summer afternoon, when activity spells misery, that we shall find ourselves resorting with eagerness to the pleasure of books — and all they imply.

Adventure, romance, knowledge — all these we may have in abundance this summer through the medium of the books available in our South Bend public libraries. Beginning approximately June 1, in order to make summer reading more enjoyable for and more accessible to those patrons who go to the lakes or travel much of their vacations, the main library and its branches will establish a special "vacation loan" of ten books, with a generous extension of the loan period. These books, with the exception of 7-day and reserve books, may be chosen from any field — music, hobbies, biography, travel, or fiction.

Remember this special service when you prepare for your vacation away from the city and take with you a good supply of interesting and steadfast vacation companions — books and reading.

MUSICAL NOTES

On May 22, the Music Department of John Adams will present a musical assembly for our students and guests. Those in the music department have worked hard this year and in addition to all of the Festival music, have prepared many lovely and outstanding numbers for this program. All members taking music will have the opportunity to participate in some form or other.

All members of chorus will sing in several numbers, while other numbers will be offered by the glee club.

The orchestra, composed of 40 members will play several numbers and the 50-piece band, which boasts a new sousaphone, will present several stirring selections.

Added attractions will be the Triple Trio, and solo numbers by some of the more talented members, including: A trombone number by Bob Hart, a violin selection by Barbara Castrijon, and a piano solo by Joan Louise Smith. Truly, it will be our outstanding program of the year.

VACATION VERITIES

Our teachers know what they are going to do this summer, do you?

A roving reporter learned these facts:

Mrs. Landis will take a fishing trip in northern Wisconsin.

Miss Knudson is planning to stay at her home in Iowa.

Mr. Weir is going to work in Wabash, Indiana.

Mrs. McClure plans to work on her Master's Degree at Bread Loaf Graduate School of English in Bread Loaf, Vermont.

Miss Solbrig will attend the American Home Economics Association in Chicago for a few days in June.

Mr. Dake will travel in the West if he can keep out of the army.

Miss Roell is planning to finish her Master's Degree at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana.

FACULTY FACTS

MR. ROTHERMEL

Mr. Rothermel, who is best known for his talent in basketball, was born in Fountain City, Indiana, which is just north of Richmond. He graduated from Fountain City High School. When he was a freshman in high school, he decided that he would follow teaching as a career. He graduated from Earlham College at Richmond, Indiana. While attending there he played guard on their basketball team. This team won twenty-four games in a row.

In 1935, after receiving his A. B. degree, he came to South Bend. Mr. Rothermel taught mathematics at Lincoln for five years, then he came to John Adams High School last fall. He now teaches mathematics, book-keeping, and commercial geography. He sponsors the Adams Aeronuts, and is the assistant basketball coach. He will receive his Masters Degree from Indiana University in June.

Mr. Rothermel was married in 1935, and has a three year old son, Terry. He enjoys traveling very much and has traveled in the Southwestern and Eastern part of the United States. He hopes to visit South America and Central America some day. His favorite sport is basketball, but he likes to participate in many sports.

I THINK

Have you noticed: Mr. Dake's backward dollar signs, Bob Murphy's new watch, all the "broomstick" skirts sweeping about, the substitute for Bennie Sheridan, new shoes, suits, dresses, etc., that spring has brought out, the look of despair on the faces of the chem. students since they have heard that no glassware of their's will be accepted until it is clean?

We need: More teachers like Mr. Krider, some real school spirit, a bowling team, more support for the Junior Prom, more assemblies like the one recently sponsored by the Hi-Y boys.

I am getting tired of: People who persist in writing on or otherwise marring our desks, leaky pens, immature fools who giggle at the slightest provocation, the way Adams' front doors are usually locked — even during school hours, borrowers.

SILENT SERVANTS

Many students think it is an easy or leisurely task to be on hall duty away from class room discipline, but many and varied are the problems that have faced some of these boys during the past year. Bob Culp, if interviewed on what qualities are necessary to be on the hall squad would probably say, "You must be faithful to all of the rules of keeping order in the halls; you must be strong enough to endure cold and drafts from the open doors; and finally, be able to handle three guys — outside intruders who refuse to obey you — at one time.

Since September, approximately 45 boys have at one time or another been on the hall squad; but only twelve — Jack Yuncker, Richard De Wells, Ted Deafenbaugh, Warren Buck, William Ferency, Bob Culp, Jim Ball, Jack Wilhelm, Don Claeys, Riley Brehmer, and Dan Muessel have had the necessary tenacity, courage, and respect for rules to be allowed to remain at their posts for the entire year. These boys not only have done regular hall duty but they have remained after school many times when it was necessary that the halls be cleared of all students, and they have coped with many serious problems. These boys truly merit the respect and attention of all their fellow students.

ON PARADE

A gala event for the girls is coming today! On May 21, Miss Solbrig's clothing classes are sponsoring a Home Economics Day. It will feature a preview of "what the well-dressed Adams' girl will wear this summer."

Since the auditorium was found unavailable for an assembly, as had been planned, the classes got together and decided that each member should model her garment all day, with a red, white, and blue ribbon to identify it.

Military styles are the fashion leaders it seems, with everything from coats and dresses to play suits boasting stars, stripes, anchors, and patriotic emblems as mottoes. The tan feather flannel dress with 72 blue embroidered stars, and red and blue striped trim on the collar and pockets was made by Betty Thompson. Margaret Friestien will be seen in a lovely blue serge military suit. Barbara Cottier and Norma Jean Honer chose white in a stunning princess style with red and blue braid, while Rosemary Erler, Mary Monahan, Frances Kierein and the Kleitz sisters favored blue with white braid. A very different military style, blue with red stripes on the shoulders, brass buttons, and a red belt was the choice of Claire Myers and Norma Maupin, while Nancy Sibley selected another version of the same pattern, using red suspenders with brass buttons.

Stripes are always intriguing, so Gilda Bowman decided upon a spectator dress of red, white and blue novelty stripe. Rita Schmitt and Carmen Sigerfoos' dresses are in striking blue and white stripes, while red and white were more appealing to Dorothy Norwood and Virginia Kingsbury. Brilliant multi-colored stripes were selected by Mary Siney, Shirley Wagner, Pat Housen, and Pat Claunch.

A smart spectator dress such as Eleanor Akre and Polly Constant made would be suitable to wear to any game. Chambray has a soft luxurious appearance so Dorothy Bickel and Betty Martin chose that material for their dresses, as it can be worn all day at a summer resort.

Gay sun dresses have a practical use on any active summer day, so these girls will be all decked out in some very lovely ones: Irene Putman, Elaine Moran, Doris Huggens, Norma Gregg, Mary Verduin, Dorothy Smith, Dorothy Taylor, Mildred Beebe, and Jean Falls.

A few of the other one hundred and twenty clothing students have made attractive dresses in plain colors, checks, and gay coin size polka dots, while others made spring coats, jackets, pajamas, and evening wraps.

So remember, if your planning your summer wardrobe, keep your eyes open for ideas on Home Economics Day.

"An optimist laughs to forget; a pessimist forgets to laugh."

THANKS, MISS RICH

"It's a marvelous new-looking, up-to-the-minute building. I hope it is as perfect scholastically as it is beautiful!" This is Irene Rich's opinion of John Adams High School. Miss Rich stated that this was really a return visit for her since she was in South Bend and also our school when "Knute Rockne — All-American" had its premiere here.

Although she was already late for her rehearsal, for the broadcast held in our auditorium on Monday evening, May 12, Miss Rich took time to answer the questions asked her by the Tribune reporter and your Tower representative, and she graciously complied with the requests of many Adams' students for autographs. Many sheets of paper with "Good Luck, Irene Rich, '41" are now probably resting in autograph books or are being proudly shown off to friends and schoolmates.

Miss Rich, now in her eighth year on the N. B. C. network, is currently appearing in "Glorious One," a serial drama. Before making her first regular appearance before the microphone in 1933, she had won her acting laurels as star of stage and screen. Her most recent parts in motion pictures have been in "That Certain Age," "The Mortal Storm," and "Keeping Company." Her latest picture is "Three Sons and a Gun" which is being produced by the Warner Brothers Studios.

SUDDEN THOUGHTS

A fool and his money sooner or later wind up in college.

A college education: Something that enables a man to get a job from a man who never went to school.

Said the math professor: "Now watch the black board while I run through it once more."

Someone has observed that it takes a student 20 minutes longer to say what he thinks than to tell what he knows.—Boulder.

The human brain is certainly a wonderful organ. It starts functioning the minute you get up, and never stops until you get in a quiz section.—Dodo.

THE ODD MAN

"How many students are there in the university?"

"About one in every five."

FACULTY TEA

The colorful students lounge, beautiful spring flowers, candlelight, and the attractive tea table lent a pleasant atmosphere to the tea at which the Foods II Class entertained our Adams' teachers.

Iced punch was served with dainty ribbon and calla lily sandwiches, and tiny cookies. The table decorations left no doubts that spring had come with a variety of the latest blossoms featured in an artistic arrangement.

Decidedly novel were the invitations drawn by Virginia Kingsbury and Betty McCracken from an idea originated by Miss Solbrig. They were in the form of a film reel, the first picture indicating who was invited by a stick figure in cap and gown; the second, what, by a cup of punch, a sandwich and cookies on a plate; the third, when, by a marked calendar and a clock set at the time, and the fourth, where, in letters.

Robert Fox, head cook of the affair, was assisted by Helen Peterson. The hostesses were, Lorraine Cappert, Alice Zelter, and Delorma Flowers, while the waitresses included Betty Whalen, Helen Powers, Mary Ramsey, and Joyce Elmore. Annabelle Fortin and Helen Peterson served the punch.

This is only one of the many occasions which the Foods II Class has had to learn the technique of hospitality, and to acquire the ability to entertain easily and to enjoy doing it.

Foods II Class is ending its semester's work with a picnic for the class which will be at Pottawattomi park on May 22nd. Picnics are really fun when well planned. The experience and training gained from this lesson will enable the class to have better picnics throughout the summer. The head cook will be Mary Jane Estep.

A MATH MAJOR

Given: I love you.
To prove: That you love me.
Proof:

1. I love you.
2. Therefore, I am a lover.
3. All the world loves a lover.
4. You are all the world to me.
5. Therefore, you love me.

—Purple Parrot.

The Home Economics Club has been an answer to the prayers of the girls who wished to take a clothing course, but whose programs allowed no room for one. To many of the more experienced sewers, the club gave a welcome opportunity to obtain some aid in fabrics and pattern selection.

This club has one of the largest memberships in the school. The club meet every other Thursday in the food and clothing rooms under the supervision of Miss Solbrig.

The officers of the club include Betty Thompson as president; Betty Roberts, vice-president; Ruth Dishon, secretary; and Helen Peterson, reporter.

POME

Now I lay me down to rest
Before I take tomorrow's test
If I should die before I wake
Thank gosh I'll have no test to take.

'Twould be grand to be an angel
And in the heavens sing;
But I'd rather be a Junior
And not do anything!

And if you'd stood on the corner
(temperature 0) waiting for a bus that wasn't jammed to the roof as long as Rose and Violet did—you'd be too.

EAGLES MAUL INDIANS

On Saturday our boys played two fine ball games. They beat Central Catholic 6-3 and then were beaten 13-12 by Riley. The boys displayed their hitting power in both games. Bob "Red" McCausland pitched a good game against the Indians and also hit our first home run of the season.

It's too bad that our three "regular" pitchers played truant that day because with a little pitching, we might have taken the Wildcats.
